formed a fitting complement to the talent and intellect represented in the seats before the platform. Vice-Henry M. MacCracken presided and conferred the degrees of doctor of medicine, while Dr. Charles I. Pardee, the dean of the faculty, announced the awarding of the prizes. On the platform with Dr. MacCracken and Dr. Pardee were the Rev. Henry van MacCracken and Dr. Pardee were the Rev. Pichy val.

McEnroe, I. 8. Harvier, E. Abbott, H. C. Cooper, Alfred L. Loomis, William H. Thomson, W. M. Polk, L. A. Stimson, Rudelph A. Witthaus, W. Gilman Thompson and many other prominent physicians. Professor Murray represented the departments of Arts and Science, and Professor Isaac F. Russell, the faculty of Law of the University. From one of the boxes the banner of the Delta Upsilon fraternity hung. After Cappa's 7th Regiment band had played a march especially dedicated to the class of '91, the Charles F. Deems, of the Church of the Strangers, read the Scripture lesson and led in prayer. Francis Sudlow Kennedy delivered the valedictory address, and then the Rev. Dr. Henry van Dyke, of the Brick Church (Presbyterian), delivered the annual address to the graduates. His subject was "Medicine is Vocation; not a Trade." In his introduction he said that each one of the young men before him had just passed through a process which might be de-scribed somewhat in the manner of the epitaph upon the immortal Betsy Blin:

wondrous change did then begin. He hatched himself with a parchment skin As full-fledged doctor of medicine.

He continued: "It seems strange at first that I these gentlemen before should be asked to preach to they begin to practise, for if there is any subject or which I have a large, profound and substantial fund of ignorance it is this subject of medicine. acquaintance with it is hardly greater than that of the Philadelphia schoolboy who was asked to describe the human body: Three parts-head, thorax and abdomen. The head contains the brain, the tongue and several kinds of sore throat. The thorax contains the heart and the diagram. The abdomen contains the lungs and the vowels, which are a, e. i. o, u, and sometimes w and y. But in spite of that ignorance, which utter disqualifies me from being a medical lecturer, and at the same time qualifies me to be a most beautiful and admirable patient, I am conscious of three sentiments which may confer some fitness to speak on this occasion: First, a sincere gratitude and reverence toward the medical profession; second, a hearty sympathy with young men; third, a profound sentiment of patriotism and love for this great city of New-York. Unconsciously, without effort, nay, almost in spite of herself, New-York has become a great university centre. Thousands of young men are gathered here to study in the schools of arts, law, theology, medicine. The city has two duties: To endow those schools and to encourage those After explaining the difference between a trade and

The doctor ought to seek the unity and credit and advancement of his profession above all personal considerations. The relation of the doctor to the community at large was then considered, and lastly the relation of the doctor to his pat'ents was discussed. In conclusion he said: "You must be a faithful believer in the dignity and value of that humanity which you serve. Never think of men and women as mere animals. They have souls as well as bodies. The worst diseases and the most subtle are those which have their seat in perverted character and a weakened will. You can never touch them, your array of medicines will be vain, your expenditure of remedies will be impotent, unless you believe the doctrine which has been so superbly stated and defended by Dr. Willtam H. Thomson: 'The free will is the centric power of humanity, and no man is well unless that will roused to action, disciplined in virtue and joined to the will of God.' You cannot do that work for others, unless it has been done first of all for yourselves. Therefore I commend you to the teaching and example of Him before whom the world stands in reverence as the Great Physician."

Much interest was shown in the distribution of prizes and hospital appointments. As Dr. Pardee announced the successful candidates they went upon the platform amid rounds of applanse. They were as fol-

DRESSED BEEF RATE MANIPULATION. Chicago, March 24 (Special).-Chairman Midgley said Concago, March 24 (Special).—Chairman Midgley said

A conference was held yesterday between the New today that the committee consisting of Chairmen GodEngland Committee and the Trunk Line Passenger Com dard, Blanchard and himself had been appointed to look up dressed beef rate manipulation solely on business originating at Missouri River points. He added that the combined output of the Kansas City, Omaha and Sioux City slaughter-houses was larger than that from Chicago, over 5,000 cars having been shipped from these points since January. The total loss was a serious one to the Chicago roads, and it would be stopped if the linterstate Commerce Commission would act on the information furnished them by the committee. The intention of the committee, he said, was to make the rate-cutters in question think over their offences in the penitentiary.

MEETING OF SOUTHWESTERN LINES.

Chicago, March 24.-A meeting of the Southwestern lines was held to-day to consider a proposition to make the same freight rates from Milwaukee that are in force from Chicago on traffic destined to Texas points by way of St. Louis. Heretofore the rates from Milwaukee have been higher from Milwaukee than from Chicago, the difference being 6 cents on first-class, 5 cents on second-class, 4 cents on third, 3 cents on fourth, and 2 cents on the remaining classes. All the roads, except the Chicago and Alton, agreed to a revision of the percentage so that the same rates could be made to apply from Milwaukee and Chicago. The Alton refused to agree to this, on the ground that it would be an injustice to Chicago shippers, and it informed the other lines that, whatever rates they might make from Milwaukee, it would preserve the usual differentials

Some of the roads are considerably exercised over some of the roads are considerably exercised over the discovery that the Missouri Pacific is accepting a rate of 40 cents a 100 pounds on sugar from New York to the Missouri River, against the regular rate of 4-cents. When the discovery was made it was thought that this was a secret cut made in violation of the law, but it appears that the Missouri Pacific has not neglected to file its tariff whith the Interstate Com-merce Commission quoting the 40-cent rate.

THE CONTROL OF THE WESTERN MARYLAND. Baltimore, March 24 (Special).—Sales of small blocks of Western Maryland Railroad stock and the visits of President Davis, of the West Virginia Central, to the Mayor show plainly that a determined movement has begun to induce the city to sell its shares of the Western Maryland. As intimated by President Hood, of the Western Maryland, in his recent statement, the hand of the Pennsylvania can be seen behind the movement. The Pennsylvania wants a direct line into the soft coal fields of Western Maryland and West Virginia. alliance with West Virginia Central and control of the Western Maryland would be a great acquisition and at the same time break up the triple alliance of the Baltimore and Ohio, Reading and Western Maryland.

Hambleton & Co., largely interested in West Virginia Central, are the buyers of the blocks of the Western Maryland stock; 110 shares were sold to them at 13 1-2. The par value of the stock is $50 and the amount listed is $852,250. The pitce paid is remarkable, as no dividend has ever been paid and the shareholders have no colce in the management. The lialtimore and Ohio will assist President Hood in his light against the Pennsylvania's getting control of the Western Maryland.

THE SOUTHWESTERN UNIFICATION.

It has been known for some time that the Gould-Huntington interests were engaged in plans for an ultimate combination of the Union Pacific, the Missouri Pacific, the Southern Pacific and the Atchison companies under an organization which would not dissolve the respective organizations, but which would practically consolidate operations and financial results. scheme has been a favorite one with Jay Gould and C. P. Huntington ever since the railroad competition West became so flerce. The Atchison Company has been willing to listen to any plan that would establish harmony in the Southwest. The discussions on the subject have not reached any positive stage yet and the arrangement of a financial basis of representation in the proposed new central organization is not likely to reach early completion.

CANADA AND THE WEST INDIES.

Ottawa, March 24.—Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, respecting his recent visit to the West Indies, says: I have every reason to feel sanguine regarding our efforts to obtain closer trade relations with those colonies, and will likely have a definite announcement to make shortly. The proposals submitted by the Dominion Government are now engaging the attention of the various legislatures. The Liberals assert that British Guinea prefers a reciprocity arrangement with the United States. This is quite erroneous, as the alleged reply of the Governor cannot be regarded as the wishes of the Colonial LegiQature, which will be heard from later on."

BREWER'S WONDERFUL SHOOTING.

A RECORD OF 99 OUT OF 100 AND FOURTEEN OTHERS "JUST FOR FUN."

The second of a series of three pigeon-shooting matches between J. A. B. Elliott, of Kansas City, and Captain John L. Brewer, of Hammondtown, Penn., for $1,000 a match, conditions 100 birds, rise thirty rards, took place yesterday at the Jersey City Heights Gun Club's grounds at Marion. Brewer won again with the wonderful score of ninety-nine birds. The match was put down to begin at 1 p. m., but before that hour a large number of the mer the club had assembled, and a $10 sweepstakes, five drds, twenty five yards rise, was gotten up. an was among the competitors and grassed four style that would have done credit to the best shot. Re-fore the great match began Brewer just to get his ye in killed fourteen birds without a miss. This, with the subsequent performance gives him the best record yet made-that is, 113 birds out of 114. In an actual match, however, Alfred Bandel, of Cininnati, still holds the record, having on Christmas day, 1880, killed his 100 birds, in a match against Captain Bogardus, who scored ninety five kills. Brewer opened the match, dropping his bird in fine style, Elliott opened with a miss, and in the first ten rounds three of the birds got away, the eighth bird falling dead just outside the eighty yard boundary. For the next fifty shots there was not a miss on either side, both men stopping many difficult birds. Elliott lost his sixtieth bird, with bad luck. The bird was hard hit and lay against the enclosure and was just to be retrieved by the dog, when an urchin from outside slipped his hand through the palings and grabbed it. The referee ordered a new bird, which was missed. Brewer hit his seventieth bird rested for a minute and then rolled down dead into the street. At the eighty-third round Eillott demanded an examination of lirewer's cartridges, which, how-ever, were found to be perfectly correct. This caused a little hard feeling, but it in no way disconcerted Brewer who grassed every subsequent bird in fine style, while Elliott allowed three birds to top the FEATURES OF NEW-YORK DEALINGS. The speculative fever at the Produce Exchange culminated yesterday in enormous transactions -25 500, 000 bushels being dealt in in wheat options. The changes in prices were moderate in their net results, but there was intense excitement in the dealings. The recent steady advance provoked realizations which the awakened outside interest met readily, but the heavy selling by Western operators finally checked the upward impulse and sent prices downward. Early cables were buoyant, but later advices were less favorable. The flour clearances were heavy and there was talk of export demands but the crop news was favorable and the receipts at the Northwest poured in freely. The crash in provisions caused by heavy sales by packers turned the current and there was a rush of long holders to liquidate in cereais. The amount on passage to Europe increased 2,432,000 bushels. May options opened at $1.13.3.4, a gain over night of 1.1-2 cent, but fell to $1.17.8. July started at $1.05.7.8, rose to $1.10.18 and ended off at $1.05.7.8, rose to $1.10.18 and ended off at $1.05.8.3.4 cent. Spot wheat opened strong in sympathy with options but ended weak. There were no export purchases here, but the West reported sales of 56,000 bushels of spring wheat to arrive c. i. f. for the United Kingdom.

The corn market ran up early on outside support, but there was intense excitement in the dealings.
